Sustainability as a Principle

For us, sustainability is not a project, but a core principle that permeates every detail of our operations:

Traceability: Our procurement standards ensure that the origin of raw materials is traceable directly back to the producer.

Local & Seasonal: We prioritize domestic ingredients and work with seasonal products to minimize environmental impact.

Resource Efficiency: We utilize state-of-the-art kitchen technology to optimize energy and water consumption.

Waste Management: Waste is sorted into fractions; paper and glass are recycled through dedicated partners.

Social Responsibility: We partner with the Hungarian Food Bank to donate surplus food to families in need.

Circular Economy: 80% of non-consumable food waste is repurposed into biogas, and used cooking oil is converted into biodiesel.

Our goal is to remain a sustainability leader in the catering sector while maintaining our market-leading role.
